

We negotiate pay

pay

The logo graphic for UNISON, featuring three green wavy lines above the word UNISON and a green swoosh underneath it.
UNISON
the public service union

People under the age of 25 get a lower minimum wage. Lots of women are paid less than men. Pay is much lower than it was when our parents were young. And it's got worse in the last ten years.

One thing you can do to improve this is join a trade union. UNISON gives people doing your job protection and a voice at work. And trade union members are paid more. We negotiate pay rises and because we've got clout, experience and 1.3 million members behind us, it's more likely we'll get something than if you ask on your own. We get employers to pay the real living wage. We negotiated pay deals that broke the government's 1% pay cap. And we're there with support, advice and free training whenever you need it.

Join online at joinunison.org or call 0800 171 2194

Join UNISON – make work better

